Daric Token is a platform which provides free crypto related educational materials with the help of freelance content creators.

Introduction:

Cryptocurrency has become a global phenomenon in recent years. However, there are many people who do not have knowledge about crypto. Most of the educational materials available online is in English and a large part of the world does not speak/read English. We believe that cryptocurrency will disrupt traditional finance, and therefore everyone must have easy access to crypto and should be able to learn about all types of crypto, coins and tokens for free. People with minimum knowledge of computer/IT should have free and easy access to educational materials from credible sources in their native language. Daric started from this simple idea that crypto must be easy to learn and easy to use for everyone. Your neighbour, your colleague, your dentist, and your grandma should all have access to educational materials in their native language, if they wish to learn about cryptocurrencies.

Our goal:

Our main goal is to be a platform for a large network of freelance content creators who promote the use of crypto, specifically XRP, XUMM wallet and XRP toolkit. The educational contents published on our platform and social media will include articles, video, and podcasts. Training workshops are also part of our plan. We encourage the freelance content creators to make educational content in their native language which will make it easier for everyday users with less knowledge of IT to be able to learn about crypto and use it.

Tokenomics:

We have allocated 40% Daric to pay the content creators to support them and encourage them to create educational materials such as video, audio, articles, and workshops to promote the use of XRP, XUMM Wallet and XRPToolkit.

40% Daric will be distributed (Airdroped) to the XRP community to bring awareness about Daric and its project. The last 20% Daric will be dedicated to the Daric Network.
